

Clearwave Corporation Provides Enhanced Eligibility and Integration Services for Premier Radiology for Improved Revenue Cycle Management

Atlanta, Georgia – November 22, 2010 - Clearwave Corporation announces that Premier Radiology successfully implemented Clearwave's Patient Information Exchange software and service-based solutions to enable real-time eligibility verification in three locations throughout middle Tennessee. Clearwave integrated its solution with Premier Radiology's Empiric practice management system (PMS) to foster the exchange of patient information not only at the time of scheduling, but also at various times prior to claims submittal.

Upon scheduling or patient check-in, Premier Radiology's PMS system sends demographic, scheduling and insurance information to Clearwave through a bi-directional interface. In return, Clearwave provides eligibility responses that include patient eligibility status (active or non-active), payer name, member ID, group number, name of insured and specialty copay.

"Clearwave has allowed our organization to improve our ability to obtain accurate and up-to-date eligibility information from our patients as well as enhance the capabilities of our current PMS and RIS systems. Both aspects have allowed us to improve our cash flow as well and provide our patients with a better experience in our office," said Bennie Wilson, director of information technology for Premier Radiology.

Clearwave's software, kiosk and service-based solutions are designed to allow physicians, hospitals and clinics/labs to increase their revenue by automating administrative and patient-facing processes, share patient data among all healthcare constituents, comply with federal and state regulations while ultimately improving the patient experience.

"Premier Radiology is using Clearwave's Patient Information Exchange software, kiosk and service based solutions in a way in that enhances their current technology and processes. Our goal was to allow Premier the opportunity to check eligibility at scheduling and check-in for every visit with minimal impact to Premier's existing systems and processes" said Gerard White, president and CEO for Clearwave Corporation. "For all of our clients; adding Clearwave's capabilities to existing systems and processes, results in improved financial results and patient experiences."
